SAGE Computing Services training courses are run on a by-request basis allowing clients to fit courses into their busy schedule. This is unlike some of our competitors that only run courses according to a set inflexible schedule that may not suit your staff's availability.

We also specialize in tailor fitting courses to your needs. If there are parts of any course that are particularly important to your site or redundant to your needs we'll happily discuss modifying the course agenda for you.

In order to minimize disruption to the business, we run our courses at the client's site using the client's Oracle software licences. SAGE provides printed training materials for each attendee and simple set up scripts to run before the course.
